God (Good) Samaritan

Jesus' parable, widely read and reflected, of the 'Good Samaritan' is, at least in terms of novelty and surprise, the best illustration of God's compassion to the afflicted, either physically or spiritually. It sets the tone for us to imitate the attitude of the helper in the parable, so as to become good and reveal the God in us. It does not invite us to go out, risk our lives, and become heroes, but invites us to reach out, risk our pride, and become fully humans.

Compassion is not logical. It transcends law and religion. It springs from the heart. It is spontaneous and cares a damn about the wounded (wo)man's color, creed and what not. Compassion refuses to 'pass by' but 'rushes in' to serve and save. Moreover, it isn't just an act of charity like flinging a coin into a beggar's bowl; it involves relationship, a radical commitment to do something about the adversity and alleviate the pain.

Let us ask ourselves few simple questions: How do we respond to people in need? Do we pass by, pretending as if they don't even exist? Do we try to pass rash and uncharitable judgement on others and lose sight of God's mercy at work? Or do we turn around, fall in step with them, and offer to help?

Dios (Buen) Samaritano

La parábola de Jesús, ampliamente leída y reflejada, del "Buen Samaritano" es, al menos en términos de novedad y sorpresa, la mejor ilustración de la compasión de Dios hacia los afligidos, ya sea física o espiritualmente. Establece el tono para que imitemos la actitud del ayudante en la parábola, a fin de volvernos buenos y revelar al Dios en nosotros. No nos invita a salir, arriesgar nuestras vidas y convertirnos en héroes, sino que nos invita a llegar, arriesgar nuestro orgullo y convertirnos en seres humanos.

La compasión no es lógica. Trasciende la ley y la religión. Surge del corazón. Es espontáneo y le importa mucho el color, el credo del hombre herido (wo) y lo que no. La compasión se niega a "pasar", pero se apresura a servir y ahorrar. Además, no es solo un acto de caridad, como arrojar una moneda al cuenco de un mendigo; implica una relación, un compromiso radical de hacer algo por la adversidad y aliviar el dolor.

Hagámonos algunas preguntas simples: ¿Cómo respondemos a las personas necesitadas? ¿Pasamos de largo, fingiendo que ni siquiera existen? ¿Tratamos de emitir juicios precipitados y poco caritativos sobre otros y perder de vista la misericordia de Dios en el trabajo? ¿O nos damos la vuelta, nos ajustamos a ellos y les ofrecemos ayuda?

St. Kateri Tekakwitha

St. Kateri Tekakwitha is the first Native American to be recognized as a saint by the Catholic Church. She was born in 1656, in the Mohawk village of Ossernenon.

She contracted smallpox as a four-year-old child which scarred her skin. The scars were a source of humiliation in her youth. Worse, her entire family died during the outbreak.

At age 19, Kateri Tekakwitha converted to Catholicism, taking a vow of chastity and pledging to marry only Jesus Christ. Her decision was very unpopular with her adoptive parents and their neighbors

According to legend, Kateri was very devout and would put thorns on her sleeping mat. She often prayed for the conversion of her fellow Mohawks. According to the Jesuit missionaries that served the community where Kateri lived, she often fasted and when she would eat, she would taint her food to diminish its flavor

Sadly, just five years after her conversion to Catholicism, she became ill and passed away at age 24, on April 17, 1680. Her name, Kateri, is the Mohawk form of Catherine, which she took from St. Catherine of Siena.

St. Kateri Tekakwitha was canonized by Pope Benedict XVI on Oct. 21, 2012. She is the patroness of ecology and the environment, people in exile and Native Americans.

St. Kateri Tekakwitha

St. Kateri Tekakwitha es la primera nativo americana en ser reconocido como santa por la Iglesia Católica. Nació en 1656, en el pueblo Mohawk de Ossernenon.

Contrajo viruela cuando era una niña de cuatro años que le cicatrizó la piel. Las cicatrices fueron fuente de humillación en su juventud. Peor aún, toda su familia murió durante el brote de la viruela.

A los 19 años, Kateri Tekak se convirtió al catolicismo, hizo su voto de castidad y prometió casarse solo con Jesucristo. Su decisión fue muy impopular con sus padres adoptivos y sus vecinos.

Según la leyenda, Kateri era muy devota y ponía espinas en su estera para dormir. A menudo rezaba por la conversión de sus compañeros Mohawks. Según los misioneros Jesuitas que servían en la comunidad donde vivía Kateri, a menudo ayunaba y cuando comía, manchaba su comida para disminuir su sabor.

Lamentablemente, solo cinco años después de su conversión al catolicismo, se enfermó y falleció a los 24 años, el 17 de abril de 1680. Su nombre, Kateri, es la forma Mohawk de Catalina, que tomó de Santa Catalina de Siena.

St. Kateri Tekakwitha fue canonizada por el Papa Benedicto XVI el 21 de octubre de 2012. Ella es la patrona de la ecología y el medio ambiente, las personas en el exilio y los nativos americanos.
